

Ent. Phyt. Appliq.

Vol. 50, No. 1&2

TRANSMISSION OF CITRUS GREEN SPOT (1)

M. HABASHI (2)

SUMMARY

Field experiments in the Caspian Sea area demonstrated that citrus green spot (probably the same as Impietratura) could be transmitted by chip budding but not by contaminated horticultural tools. The incubation period was found to be one year.

---

(1)- Received for Publication March 10, 1980.

(2)- Eng. Mohammad Habashi, Plant Pests and Diseases
Research Laboratory, P.O.Box 119, Tonekabon, Iran.

REFERENCES

- Anonym, 1979. Citrus Diseases. Research on diseases of citrus in north of Iran. Plant Protection Org. Bull. 26: 8-40(Farsi).
- HABASHI, M. and Pag, H., 1968. A guide to citrus growers about Ring Pattern and Impietratura Diseases in Iran. Extension Service, Bulletin 1: 1968.
- RUGGIERI, G., 1968. Impietratura. PP 60 - 62. In Indexing Procedures for 15 Virus Diseases of Citrus Trees. Agric. Handbook No. 333. Agric. Res. Service. U.S.D.A., Washington, D.C.